THE RECYCLED ORCHESTRA

In 2009, Amy Smith and Mary Lewis, two American filmmakers, decided to make a film about children in Paraguay, South America. While doing their research, the two women discovered an unusual project. It was a very special orchestra in a place called Cateura. In the end, this orchestra became the subject of their film.

Cateura is a poor village where the garbage from the area is dumped. Mountains of garbage have surrounded the village for years. Surprisingly, however, many of the 2,500 families in Cateura earn money by looking through the garbage for things that they can use or sell.

One day, a villager named Pedro Alvero found a piece of wood in the dump that looked like a violin. He brought it to Favio Chavez, a local musician. Using other objects collected from the garbage, the two of them built a working violin. "This was an important achievement in a place where a real violin costs more than a house," Chavez explains in the film. The two men next built a cello, a flute and a drum. Then, they had a crazy idea. They decided to use these instruments to start an orchestra with the children of Cateura who had no musical training and who live in one of the poorest areas in the world.

Alvero and Chavez slowly put together the orchestra. To support them, many villagers collected things from the garbage to make more musical instruments.

They called the orchestra "The Recycled Orchestra".

Most of the children in the orchestra are from Cateura or areas nearby. Chavez organized local musicians to teach the children to play the various instruments. The orchestra has given these children an alternative to the lives their parents live. "Being able to play an instrument has greatly changed my world," one girl said. "Without music, my life would be worthless."

(שים לב: המשך הקטע בעמוד הבא.)

(انتبه: تكلمة القطعة في الصفحة التالية.)

The orchestra has become famous thanks to the American film which shows the lives of the children and their families. Today, the 30 musicians in the orchestra often travel abroad, performing in Argentina, Brazil and Germany.

Environmental organizations use this project to show people a creative way to recycle garbage. However, Chavez says, "I started this orchestra to educate the world. I want people to know that, although these children are poor, they can still contribute to society."

A NEW WAY TO START A BUSINESS

by Ann Worth

Adam Carter, a young engineer, wanted to develop a watch which displays information such as text messages that are sent from a cellphone. He tried to get rich investors to give him money to develop the watch, but they were not interested.

- 5 So he decided to advertise on Kickstarter, an Internet site where ordinary people can invest in creative projects. People don't have to invest a lot. For example, they can invest as little as $99 in Carter's watch. Less than two hours after his advertisement appeared on the Kickstarter site, Carter reached his goal of $100,000. Within a week, nearly 50,000 people had invested almost $7 million.
- 10 People who want to invest in Kickstarter get detailed information about the projects they are interested in. They can also see specially made videos that may help convince them to put their money into particular projects. Once they have invested, in addition to the profits they can make, they often get a bonus as well. In Carter's project, they get a watch. Kickstarter doesn't charge money
- 15 to advertise a project. However, if the project is successful, it gets five percent of the investment.

Today, cheap Internet services like Kickstarter give people a chance to try out ideas and see if there is a market for them. This makes it easier for them to decide if they want to start a new business. Carter's watch is the latest and the most successful

20 example of how Kickstarter is changing the way people start businesses.

(انتبه: تكملة القطعة في الصفحة التالية.)

The site first began as a way to get money for specific projects like unusual documentary films or pop concerts. It quickly grew to include the production of video games and original gadgets. "Sites like Kickstarter have now become a real alternative to starting a company in the traditional way," 25 said Daniel Wang, a business professor at the University of Pennsylvania.

Norman Fisher, president of a computer company, doesn't completely agree with Professor Wang. Fisher admits that sites like Kickstarter may be good for small businesses. However, he believes it's impossible to avoid the traditional ways of starting large businesses. Fisher says, "These 30 businesses need a support team to help young and inexperienced people deal with complicated problems. Such support doesn't exist on sites like Kickstarter. There is a big difference between a simple, one-time project and a sophisticated, large business. It's important not to confuse the two."

DISCOVERING ISRAEL

Ruthie Cohen smiled as she watched the four young people sitting around her kitchen table enjoying a home-cooked meal. It could be any dinner table in any house in Israel, but it wasn't.

- 5 The unusual thing about it was that Ruthie had met her dinner guests for the first time just 10 minutes earlier. They were hikers who were walking along the Israel Trail. Ruthie and her husband Ilan are "trail angels" – Israelis who open their homes to hikers that walk the Israel Trail.

- 10 The 1000-km Israel Trail goes from Eilat in the south to Metulla in the north. The hardest part of the trail is from Eilat to Arad because it crosses the desert. Since the trail opened in 1995, tens of thousands of people have hiked at least part of it.
- 15 According to a recent survey, four out of 10 hikers complete the whole trail. It usually takes about two months.

- In the past, hikers usually slept outside. But now, many of them are happy to benefit from the hospitality of trail angels. There are hundreds of these angels who provide different services for free. Some offer just their backyard where hikers can put up a tent, but most offer a clean bed, hot showers and the use of the kitchen.

A few, like Ruthie and Ilan, also serve home-cooked meals. Over the past four years they have hosted many hikers. "Most of them are lovely young people, and it's a pleasure to meet them," she says.

Wikimedia Commons

"Staying with trail angels really adds to our experience," says Ben, 23. "They make us believe in the good in people." Ben and his three friends have been hiking together for a month, and plan to continue for another five weeks. "Hiking is a wonderful way to see the country," says Ben. "There's lots to discover and many wonderful people to meet."

בדומה לעברית, סדר המילים במשפט באנגלית הוא כזה:

1. נושא - subject
2. פועל - verb
3. מושא - object
4. תיאור מקום - place
5. תיאור זמן - time

בכל משפט חייבים להיות נושא ופועל. שאר החלקים אינם חובה. לדוגמא:

במשפטי שאלה, נתחיל את המשפט מהפועל ולא מהנושא. לדוגמא:

Do I eat?

Do I eat pizza in the kitchen every day?

ניתן להתחיל את המשפט בתיאור הזמן או המקום במקום בנושא. במקרה זה, יופיע אחרי התיאור ולפני הנושא פסיק.

דוגמה לחיבור דעה:

What is better, living in a city or in a Moshav or a kibbutz? Different people will answer this question differently. In my opinion, living in the city is the best.

First of all, the city has everything in it: shopping centers, cinemas, places to go out, etc. Secondly, there are more people, so you can meet many different kinds of people and have many friends. Finally, there are more jobs and you don't have to work at a job you don't like.

Some people believe that it's better to live in a Moshav or a Kibbutz. I, however, think they are wrong because there is very little to do there, there are a few people, you can't choose your job and it's very boring and dull.

In conclusion, there is no place like the city, and when I grow up I will definitely live in a big city.

The issue of whether students should have access to their cellphones during school hours is a very complicated one. Different people have different opinions.

On the one hand, students should be available on their cellphones in case their parents need to contact them or in cases of emergency. Also, cellphones can help students in their studies. For example, they can take a picture of the whiteboard instead of copying what is written on it.

On the other hand, cellphones make it hard for students to concentrate on the lesson because they keep getting text messages. In addition, most students do not have the self-discipline needed to listen to the teacher instead of playing games with their phone or checking their Facebook.

In conclusion, I think that cellphones should be kept in a locker during the lessons and that students should only have access to them during breaks.
